LETTER

Sir:

On January 14, 2002, Applicants filed a 35 USC § 371 of International Patent Application No. PCT/EP00/06614 by express mail. Applicants included copies of the Transmittal Letter, Request, International Preliminary Examination Report, Preliminary Amendment A, Preliminary Amendment B, and Declaration/Power of Attorney. Applicants however inadvertently omitted the international application as published in the German language and instead filed and incorrectly identified the English translation of the same as the published document.

Pursuant to a suggestion received from the PCT legal branch, Applicants are hereby refiling the 371 of International Patent Application No. PCT/EP00/06614 by express mail in the event that the 371 filed on January 14, 2002 is found defective. The necessary papers are forwarded herewith. These papers include the published International Patent Application No. PCT/EP00/06614 in the German language, an English translation of the same, Transmittal Letter, Request, International Preliminary Examination Report, Preliminary Amendment A, Preliminary Amendment B, and Declaration/Power of Attorney. These documents are being timely filed within the 30 month deadline, i.e., January 15, 2002, for entering national phase in the United States.

Express Mail No. ET756705433US

Should the prior application be judged to meet all requirements of 371, Applicants understand that the present filing will not be considered a national phase filing. In this circumstance, we request that the application be converted to a filing under 35 USC § 111(a). However, should the previous application be considered deficient under the provisions of 371, Applicants request that the present application be considered the timely filed 371 application.

The undersigned invites the US Patent and Trademark Office Elected Office to telephone in order to clarify any questions regarding this matter.

The Director is hereby authorized to charge any deficiency in any fees due with the filing of this paper or credit any overpayment in any fees to our Deposit Account Number 08-3040.

Respectfully submitted,
